UNIONS TO MEET WITH CITY COUNCIL; DISCUSS LOCAL LABOR QUESTION

At a meeting of the Labor Council at the Labor Temple last night, the body decided to take up with the City Council the matter of bringing in men to work who are not citizens and taxpayers of Richmond. The move is meeting with universal support of the merchants and a majority of the members of the city council intimate that they favor theemployment of local labor, providing the men are here that can do the work.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars spent during the past few years for improvements in Richmond have been sent from the city, causing a great loss to business houses and a scarcity of work among the workin gpeople. In presenting their arguments to the council the labor unions will not make any unreasonable demands, but will place the matter just as the situation is at present.

T. J. Vitaich, organizer of the State Federatio nof Labor who is conducting a campaign for the Federation in this county was a speaker at the meeting, which was well attended. "The situation in Richmond for unionism is excellent and far superior to the conditions existing in Martinez," he said "The unions are cooperating with me in every way and I am confident that excellent and far reaching results will be obtained."

That the unions are gaining in strength is evident from the large increase in membership of the various locals. Each meeting several new members are taken into the various bodies. The Labor Council will meet in the very near future with members of the Board of Education to discuss several important matters.

Vitaich last evening also addressed well attended meetings of the Carpenters and Plumbers locals. The organizer is enthusiastic over conditions in this city and with the cooperation of not only the unions but that of the merchants and property owners will without a doubt, bring greater business into the city.

This "local labor" question is one that concerns everyone whether a member of a union or not, and the Labor Council and other bodies should have the united support of the city.

WARNING IS ISSUED TO OWNERS OF AUTOS

Automobilists who insist upon interfering with the movements of the fire apparatus will be placed under arrest. While probably none of the drivers interfere with the fire engines with any direct intention, it is proving a great hinderance to the department.

Several serious accidents have been narrowly averted. Fire Chief Roy Lemoin stated last night that the situation demanded that drastic action be taken. Lemoin last night issued the following statement to automobile drivers:

I wish to call your attention to the dangerous practice of following the fire apparatus when it is responding to a fire, or driving up close to the apparatus when it is standing at a fire there have been several near accidents caused by persons driving so close that when the drivers are turning the apparatus backing around a corner.

It is also a violation of the traffic ordinance. I ask that drivers observe this ordinance and make it safer for all concerned.

Respectfully Roy Lemoin. Chief of Fire department.

WEST SIDE BOMBARDED BY A BAND OF YOUNGSTERS

"Great scott, they're attacking the city."

The cry rang out in the still night air in the vicinity of Santa Fe and Richmond avenues last night. To the crash of breaking windows and falling bricks, the cry echoed through the stillness. Officer Standiford at the police station, received a telephone call.

"Help, assistance, succor, aid," it said "We're being bombarded."

Officers Wylie and Livingston, left the station house on the gallop and arrived at Santa and Richmond avenues in time to capture six youthful warriors, between the ages of 11 and 14 years. The lads had been amusing themselves, breaking windows in a bakery and several houses. Following a very elucidating lecture upon the error of their ways and the promise to pay for the damages, the lads were released.

Some twenty other youngsters who participated in the bombardment will receive similar treatment.

REASONS FOR KINDNESS TO ANIMALS

Here are some of the reasons why we should do all we possibly can to protest animals.

One—They are, humanly speaking, dumb and defenseless.

Two—They are especially liable to cruel treatment.

Three—They are the victims of science, sport, fashion, ignorance and prejudice.

Four—There is so much suffering in this world that we ought to do everything we can to lessen, and not to increase it.

Five—It is cowardly and contemptible to cause a living sentient creature unnecessary, or avoidable suffering.

Six—The animals do so much for us in so many ways, ministering to our needs, that they earn exemption for their various races from cruelty, suffering and ill-treatment.

Seven—Selfish and callous disregard of their rights can only react disastrously upon the moral nature of the human family. It is a short step from cruelty to animals to cruelty to human beings. The parents who train their children to be kind, considerate and thoughtful for the animals, are laying up treasures which they themselves will reap when those children are grown up.

Eight—As Jeremy Benthah, the great jurist, wrote of the claims of animals: "The question is not—'Can they reason,' nor 'can they talk,' but 'Can they suffer?' "—"Animal's Guardian," London.

BUTTE WORKERS ARE UNIONISTS

"We are working out our own destiny in our own way and need no dictators." says the "Free Lance" of Butte, Mont., in an editorial reviewing the Butte labor movement after its survival of many recent spectacular dissensions. This paper says: "Yes, the so-called ultra-conservatives, into whose hands the labor movement has fallen, are the same men who gained for labor the conditions it now enjoys, which are superior to any in any other community on the oNrth American continent. The labor unions are not misled by mirages, nor are they chasing phantoms; they believe in securing conditions for the worker here. And now they are not going to change to false prophets or false gods, nor will they be deluded by the sophistries or false promises of men who neither can nor will assist them. The trade unionists of this community are not going to be severed from the path which experience and results attained has taught them to be the only one that can guarantee them better conditions in life, namely, their economic movement, and the economic movement is not going to pull anybody's chestnuts out of the fire. We have enough to do to attend to our own business and cannot and will not be cajoled into being an auxiliary to any other organization, be it political, fraternal or social."

NO OFFENSE INTENDED

A reader of Stege takes exception to several articles appearing in the Daily News relative to the escapades of certain residents of Stege and vicinity. "Why do you not print the good that happens in this district?" the reader inquires. The Daily News had no idea or thought that these articles would prove obnoxious or offensive to its readers. A newspaper is printed for the purpose of giving to the public the news, whether it be good or bad. The Daily News will be pleased to publish any articles which are of general news interest, providing they are kept within a limited number of words.

AT THE RICHMOND

Today at the Richmond Theater will be seen the mystery play in which appears the wonderful problem of a duel personality. "The Case of Beckey," featuring America's most versatile actress Miss Blanche Sweet. This young actress has grown to be a great favorite with the Lasky people who used her before with great success in "Secret Orchard."

"The Case of Becky is the story of a girl with a dual personality. Her life is a struggle between the pleasant and happy in her disposition and the mean and selfish. She is constantly carried hither and thither by the two oposing forces until the matter is finally solved by love's young awakening.

The mysteries of hypnotism enter into the theme of the play and are handled by the Lasky company with extreme tact and full power. The play is exceedingly interesting and will prove entertaining to young and old as it is both full of action and of thoughtful treatment as well. With this feature will be shown a two act play $100,000 Bill and a comedy. "The Honeymooners."

Born's Clothes Service

WHEN you have a suit or overcoat tailored to your order by M. Born & Company, you are buying Clothes service—not only clothes.

At any price you choose to pay, a Born suit will bring you a better pure wool fabric, richer trimmings and finer workmanship than any clothes, ready-made or made-to-order, sold at the same price.

That's why Born Tailoring wears longer, and keeps its original style and shape longer than ordinary clothes—that's what we mean by "Clothes Service"—and that's why Born makes more clothes to measure than any other tailoring organization in the world.

When may we send your order to the House of Born?

The Mystery of the Stolen Cheese

OR

The Janitor's Secret

BY

PERCY ALGERNON DOUGHNUT

LAST INSTALLMENT

The court was crowded to the doors. Curious and interested citizens climbed telephone poles and other places of vantage to get a glimpse of the prisoner as he entered the crowded courtroom. It was the trial of William Loose, charged with the theft of the chunk of limburger cheese from the hash house on Macdonald avenue

The prisoner stepped to the bar (of justice) and looking the twelve ginks who composed the jury straight in the eye, he said "I am innocent of this foul deed."

But old Joe McNamara, the villian, and principal witness for the prosecution laughed or laffed, whichever is preferred and in answer to a question by the prosecuting attorney, answered "I saw Loose remove that piece of cheese."

Loose staggered as from a blow. Picking up a chair, our hero was about to encircle it around the villians neck, when Mary burst open the doors of the court room and rushed in.

"Don't hit the big stiff, Bill," she said. "You'd only be bustin the chair and furniture is mighty expensive these days."

CHAPTER XV

In the meahtime, things were happening in Richmond. A detective, working to gather assistance for our hero had located a man, whom he thought might throw some light on the great mystery.

"We the twelve boobs composing this jury, find the prisoner guilty of arson, burglary, murder and the theft of a piece of limburglar cheese." It was the voice of the forman of the jury. "Hehe" laughed the villian. "Coises" echoed our hroe.

"I know you are innocent, darling," said Mary, "This big stiff is slipping something over."

"In view of the seriousness of this charge," spoke the Judge, "I will pass sentence now. Mr. Loose stand up while I whisper a few things in your ear. "Bill stood up.

Like all good heroes he was game to the last ditch and faced the judge, without faltering.

"Prisoner at the bar of justice I sentence you to——"

There was a commotion outside the court room. In sauntered a tall, powerful looking individual.

"Vot bane all de excitehment, Yoodge," he inquired.

"This man has been found guilty of stealing the limburger cheese from the hash house in Richmond," answered the judge "and Bill Loose here has been found guilty of the foul deed. "And who are you may I inquire."

"Oh yee, yoodgs" answered the mysterious stranger, "Dot bane good yoke. Aye bane, Yens Yensen, da yanitor, and Aye bane eat dot piece limburger."

The mystery had been cleared. Loose was released. Joe McNamara disappeared and was last heard from in small out-of-the village sometimes referred to as Martinez. Mary quit her job at the hash house and Bill and she became man and wife, Bill landing a job at the Standard Oil yards.

MICKEY SHRADER, OROVILLE HURLER HAS GREAT RECORD

Mickey Shrader, the young man who wil lofficiate for the Oroville club in their match with the local club on the local pasturage next Sunday, has a great record to his credit. Schrader performed in every game of the season of the Trolley League and out of 25 games pitched lost but five. The following is from the Oroville newspaper:

Mickey Schrader, pitcher for the Oroville Olives, and pride of local fandom, certainly has made an enviable record this season. Indeed there is not another pitcher in the Trolley league, or in Northern California, for that matter, who can equal Schrader's record.

Mickey, has proven himself the most consistent pitcher in the Trolley league. He has not missed a game since the season begun, has never been relieved during a game and on two occasions displayed remarkable grit by remaining in the box when so weakened by illness that is was only by the dint of effort that he was able to remain upright.

The following sumary tells the story of Schrader's pitching record in the Trolley league:

G.	W.	L.	T.	PCT.
25	20	5	0	.800

Schrader has an average of 9 9-16 strike-outs a game and has issued an average of 1 23-25 free passes a game. The opposing clubs have made an average of 3 12-25 runs and 6 18-25 hits off Schrader's delivery. He has hit six batsmen, in the twenty-five games and is also credited with three wild pitches. The records credit him with pitching four shut-out games, one one-hit game, two two-hit games, two three-hit games and several four and five-hit games.

Now that Percy Algernon Doughnut has completed his contribution to the Daily News, I have been requested by the boss to secure the histories of the various famous and infamous gentlemen I have met during my peregrinations through the city of Richmond. The first of this series will start tomorrow morning. The series will include the life history of Howard French, Bert Curry, Herman Tuller Al Childs, Bill Luce, Joe Brooks, David Knowles, Gus Lang, Fred Lemoin, Walter Hughes, Harry D. Chapman, Carlton Stetson, Royal Archibald Rogers, Frederick Chauncy Newsome, George T. Griffin, and a gang of others.

While many of these articles may not be authentic, it must be taken into consideration that this newspaper must use a strict censorship in handling these articles.

A man we all love and adore: William Luce.

As soon as possible, we will begin a short resume of the baseball season just passing into oblivion. Denny J. Healey, Joe McNamara, Louie Lowenberg and Joe Thomas kindly take notice.

Perhaps it will be far from complimentary to certain gentlemen, but we always are willing to take a chance.

EXTRA, DENNY GIVES AWAY SOMETHING

Bring your seats a little closer boys and hear something real good. This is rich. Yuh all know this lad, Denny Jehosaphat Healey. Well we grabbed a Petaluma sheet yesterday and scanned the columns with great eagerness. We wanted to see how many got the hook this week. But we were disappointed in one way and in another, we received a terrible shock. Denny actually gave something for nothing. To the citizens of Petaluma, Mr. Healey gave his thanks. As these did not necessitate an outlay of any of the stuff that jingles this should cause no great surprise. But being the first thing we ever heard of Healey giving away gratis we thought we might as well give the old boy credit. He is so liberal. He hates money like we hate to get our pay check.
